BEISEKER NEWS NOTES

Miss Marjorie Stickels of Brantford, Ontario, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lount last week for a day.

Mr. and Mrs. Moran, Kneehill Valley, and Charlotte, and Mr. and Mrs. Beneder of Rockyford visited with Mrs. German last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Silbernagels spent last week-end in Medicine Hat, where they took little Sheryl for medical treatments.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Silbernagels, Elnora visited relatives in Beiseker last week-end.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Eva Hagel in the loss of her brother recently. Mrs. Fred Meidinger, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schwarzenberger accompanied her to the funeral in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Desmond Brosteaux, Emmanuel Hagel, Florence Hagel, Doreen Hagel and Delores Silbernagel are leaving on Thursday, August 2, for trip to Spokane.

Little Billy Schissel's finger is healing nicely. Billy cut it badly when he slipped it into the belt of a pump.

Messrs. Matt Schmeltz, Nick Velker, Sr., Ed Schwarzenberger, Tony Hagel, Jr. and Louie Hagel spent last week-end at the Retreat House in Cochrans.

Mr. Ken Wright had the misfortune of being side swiped in Calgary last Monday on his return trip from the coast by one of those hit-and-run drivers. However, Mr. Wright says "It could have been worse," and considering some of the terrible accidents this summer, he is quite right, but nevertheless it was too bad that he had to suffer for someone else's negligence.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Skuce and family are welcomed to Beiseker. Although Mr. Skuce was transferred here sometime ago from Olds as the Parrish and Heimbecker Ltd. grain agent, the family remained to finish school, and also until the house here would be vacant. Every success in Beiseker is wished for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seizler are now comfortably moved into their new home. Jack has worked very hard to get everything in readiness, and must take it easy for awhile. Mrs. Seizler was a very busy housewife too, with a large number of boarders, but some of these have moved away, and she is also ready to relax.

Mrs. Thro Tetz and Roger motored to Portland with Mrs. H. Herron and Alan. They will visit their sister, Mrs. L. Hogan.

Mr. Art Scheffelmier is at home from Innisfail on a two weeks' holiday from the Crown Lumber where he is employed.

Miss Annie German will be transferred from Strathmore, where she is employed by the Alberta Government Telephones, to Innisfail, on August 16.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. P. Mattern on the birth of a daughter, July 21.

We hear that Marie Hagel has been a splendid little housekeeper, but we hope that she doesn't like it so well that she will want to remain in Calgary instead of continuing her studies in school!

After a lovely lunch, Mrs. Peter Ternes, on behalf of the guests, presented the bride with a beautiful eight-piece service of silver, glass and dinnerware.

McDougall United Church Scene Of Pretty Bridal

BEISEKER — Graduates of the University of Alberta were united in marriage in an afternoon ceremony at McDougall United Church, Edmonton, on Saturday, July 21, when Alyce Lenore Wright, B.Sc., R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wright of Beiseker, became the bride of Mr. Robert Cameron McGinnis, M.Sc., son of Mr. Reginald J. McGinnis and the late Mrs. McGinnis of Westlock, Alta.

Rev. W. Bainbridge officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Proceeding down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was charmingly gowned in traditional white brocaded satin, fashioned on Princess lines, with nylon net yoke and with long lily-point sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was of English illusion net with matching headdress. Her only jewellery was a double-strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and she carried a beautiful cascade bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Sally Hayman, wore a gown of mauve nylon net and lace with pink accessories and a headress of dainty pink carnations and fern.

The bridesmaid, Miss Claretta Wright, sister of the bride, was gowned in Nile green nylon net over taffeta with matching accessories and with tiara style head-dress of net and velvet.

Both of the bride's attendants carried Colonial bouquets, blending with their costumes.

Mr. Douglas McGinnis, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushering the guests were Mr. Arthur McGinnis of Lethbridge, brother of the groom, and Mr. Leighton Wright of Beiseker, brother of the bride.

The soloist, Mrs. A. T. Gray of Edmonton, sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Seventy guests were received later at the reception held in the drawing room of the Macdonald Hotel, where Dr. J. B. Ringwood proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. J. H. H. Wright and Mrs. A. C. Parton shared honors at the t'a urns.

To receive the guests, the bride's mother wore a two-piece turquoise crepe dress with navy blue accessories, and the groom's aunt, Mrs. Clifford Bowman of Calgary, was gowned in navy blue with white accessories.

Junior Club Held Monster Rally

LEVEL LAND—A Monster Junior Club Rally was held at the Rockville Farm at Morrin on July 25.

At eleven o'clock all members met at the picnic grounds near the Morrin Ferry on the Red Deer river. At one p.m. all cars drove to the experimental plots on the Rockville farm where Mr. N. F. Bell, District Agriculturist, introduced Mr. Don McFadden, of Lacombe Experimental Station, who spoke in the test plots being visited. Then back to the Rockville farmyard, where all saw some good Shorthorn stock, and then one of the finest flocks of Suffolks sheep, which is owned by P. J. Rock & Son.

After returning to the picnic grounds, a talk, on the Dinosaur beds of the Red Deer River Valley, was given by Mr. Sylvan Hillerud of the Department of Extension. Some of the group then visited the beds.

Friends and parents of the members from many clubs attended the giant rally. The clubs represented were:

Beef Clubs: Morrin, Livingston, Rosebud, Swallow, Avondale, Craigmile and Hanna.

Grain Clubs: Delia, Drumheller, Rockyford, Carbon, Acme, Beiseker, Three Hills, and Trochu.

Girls' Clubs: Huxley, Sarcee, Carbon, Over the Hill, Livingston and Munson.

Three cars from the Carbon district attended the rally and enjoyed the day.

Farewell Party For Searle Grain Agent

BEISEKER — On Tuesday evening, July 24, a large number of friends gathered in the Memorial Hall in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ki Killen, who are leaving our community to take up residence at Mazeppa, Alta. Mr. Killen has been the Searle Grain agent here for about six years, but unfortunately, due to Ki's last illness, the work here is too heavy, and a lighter position became necessary. The community regret this fact very much, and also Agnes' beautiful voice will be greatly missed in the choir, and at other gatherings as well.

The evening was enjoyably spent playing court whist, whilst the severe thunderstorm played havoc with the lights, and half of the time was spent in darkness until enough lamps were rounded up so as not to have to depend on the power. The card game was shortened due to the storm, and tables were re-arranged for a tasty luncheon served by the hostesses. Seated at the guests of honors' table, which was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and lighted tapers, were Agnes' mother, Mrs. Green, Calgary, Ki's brother, Dean Killen, Rockyford and Chairman, Mr. L. L. Schmaltz, Mayor. Rev. Fr. Tennant, unfortunately, could not be present, due to his attending a dramatic course in Red Deer.

The Chairman's first duty was to present the prizes for cards, with Mrs. Frances Schmaltz winning high, and Mrs. Felix Hagel the low, and also requested the winners to show their gifts. We might say that words were not necessary to show how pleased Mrs. Hagel was with her skipping rope, but when asked for a demonstration she regretted the fact that the rope was too short!

Mr. Schmaltz, after expressing his regrets at losing Mr. and Mrs. Killen, called on representatives of the various organizations to say a few words. In conclusion, Mr. Schmaltz, on behalf of the guests, presented the honored guests with a purse as a small tribute to the esteem in which they are held in the community.

Mr. Killen, in replying, recalled many happy instances of his stay in Beiseker that will never be forgotten. Mrs. Killen also feelingly replied.

Washington Resident Visit Parents' Home

Mr. Harvey Gimbel, who has Gimbel, who has attended Walla Walla College of Washington for the last four years, was home over the week-end visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gimbel of this district. Harvey will attend medical school at Loma Linda for the next four years. Also visiting with the Gimbels was Ann Matherand, fiancée of Harvey Gimbel, of Mt. Vernon, Washington. Miss Matherand will attend the School of Nursing at Loma Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitzgar and Mrs. Harold Hill of Calgary, were weekend visitors with friends in the district.

Mr. John Leiske and family took in the Monster Junior Club Rally on Wednesday, July 25, at the Rockville farm near Morrin.

Mr. Jacob Saylor of Carbon, died on Saturday, July 28, while enroute to the Drumheller Hospital. Mr. Saylor was father of Mrs. Emil Lang of Beiseker, and Mrs. Jacob Hoff of Carbon, and Mr. Emanuel Saylor of Redland. Obituary will appear in next week's paper.

Support the Seaway

Clamor is rising throughout the country for Canada to go ahead on its own to build the half-billion dollar St. Lawrence Seaway. Demands became increasingly vocal when a United States house of representatives public works committee killed a bill calling for U.S.-Canadian co-operation in building the project.

The federal cabinet is meeting to consider preparation of legislation for an all-Canadian seaway. It is believed parliament will be asked to give approval at the fall session which meets Oct. 9.

The seaway has been talked about and planned for for the past 20 years. From the very start, Canada favored the project, as did New York State.

But pressure groups in the U.S. Congress have been successful in forestalling international co-operation.

The seaway, utilizing some canals already built between the Great Lakes, would open up a great inland waterway leading right into the heart of the continent, to Fort William and Chicago.

Now that Canada may go it alone, the experts in Ottawa say the only stumbling block may be in securing support of the west for the project.

Although the west will not be directly affected by the seaway, it will benefit materially from cheaper transportation rates that would come into effect with the seaway. Western farmers, particularly, may receive a higher return for grain due to lower rates that the seaway would bring. In addition, manufactured products from the east may become cheaper here.

Water transportation has always been cheaper than railway transit. Construction of the seaway, with its consequent lower rates, may help to offset current iniquitous rail rates.

Electricity on Farms

Approximately 11,000 farms in Alberta are being supplied with central electric power. Projects will be completed by the end of the year to supply about 4,000 additional farms with such power, bringing the total up to 15,000. As there are about 89,000 farms in this province, slightly over 16 per cent will be supplied with electricity by the end of 1951.

Most of the electricity in farming areas is being distributed by local co-operatives which buy the power wholesale, mainly from Calgary Power Co. and International Utilities.

News on Atomic Tests

The United States has conducted at least four major tests of atomic weapons since the end of World War II. The last was recently concluded at Eniwetok and officials have cautiously revealed some information about the results.

New weapons "several times" more powerful than the bomb dropped during the war were watched by observers seven miles away. No information as to the area of destruction was released. "Useful information on thermo-nuclear reactions" was obtained but nothing was made available as to the reactions which would follow the explosion of an H-bomb.

In the experiment at Eniwetok, radio-guided airplanes flew through atomic clouds, and animals and testing devices were located so as to measure radio-activity. One conclusion was that an atomic bomb, exploded high in the air for greater blast damage, would leave no lingering radio-activity.

The latest experiment involved some 9,000 men, identified as Task Force 3, who had with them tanks, scores of plane with special equipment, thousands of mice and pigs and dogs, cameras and other instruments to make a record of what took place.

Max's Moment

By JACK SCOTT

"Shoe laces! Razor blades! Pencils!" The stooped old man cried his wares in a quavering voice. He was known as "Old Max." From dawn until midnight he trudged the streets looking for customers, a small figure in tattered clothes and scuffed shoes, one of the broken derelicts of the big town.

Jack Scott

On the day with which this story is concerned, the rain beat down and Old Max's shoes squished on the wet pavement. He had sold nothing since morning.

"Shoe laces! Razor blades! Pencils!" he cried in the empty street and his voice was lost in the rain.

And then a strange event occurred. A magnificent Lincoln Continental, driven by a liveried chauffeur, pulled up to the curb beside Old Max. He saw the rear window roll down and the head of a beautiful woman emerged. "Come here," she said in a voice that seemed to turn the rain drops into morning dew.

The woman smiled tenderly at him. She was the most beautiful woman Old Max had ever seen.

"Poor man, you are cold and wet," she said. "Come with me and I will take you to my apartment. You can rest there and dry your clothes."

Old Max had never been in such a place. A fire of alder logs blazed cheerily in the great stone fireplace. Soft, indirect lighting threw highlights on the period furniture, on the long shelves of rare books and the expensive oils that adorned the walls.

The beautiful woman pulled a deep chesterfield chair up to the fire and helped Max off with his soggy shoes. The scent of her subtle perfume made him pleasantly dizzy.

Old Max put his head back on the chair and watched the beautiful woman move about the room. She put some Strauss waltzes on the magnificent phonograph and the music filled the room. She poured him a tall drink of whisky and soda, put cigarettes within reach, brought in a tray of sandwiches made from the breast of a guinea hen.

Her smile was always upon Old Max, as dazzling as the diamonds she wore, and when he moved in the deep chair, she was beside him instantly, fixing a cushion behind his back.

Old Max timidly lit a cigarette, took a modest sip of his highball and closed his tired eyes. From far off he heard the distant sound of traffic on the city streets. He felt a moment of guilt, knowing he should be hawking his wares, but the warmth of the fire and the soft sound of the music were irresistible.

Old Max quietly fell asleep. The beautiful woman gently put his feet up on a stool, turned the lights down and glided from the room.

It was late afternoon when Old Max awakened. He looked about wildly, then remembered the strange events that had brought him to this gracious room. He saw that his coat and shoes were dry now and he began to get into them.

When he was dressed, the beautiful woman entered the room once more.

"You are going now?" she asked. Old Max nodded his head affirmatively.

"Then I want you to have this," the beautiful woman said, and put a roll of bills in his hand. Old Max looked down at them. There appeared to be several $50 bills.

"Isn't there . . . isn't there anything I can do for you?" Old Max asked.

"Yes," the beautiful woman said. "Yes, there is. Would you kiss me?"

Old Max blinked in astonishment. Then quickly he kissed the beautiful woman, turned and made his bewildered way to the door.

As he emerged once more on the wet street, he seemed a new man. His tiny shoulders were thrown back. His chin was held high and he was not conscious of the rain beating into his face. His voice was full of triumph now.

"Shoe laces!" Old Max called. "Shoe laces! Razor blades! KISSES!"

Good Duck Hunting

(From Leduc Representative)

Good news is being heard these days by those who, each fall, oil up the old shotgun and take to the fields for a few days' duck hunting. Latest figures seem to indicate that come fall, there will be plenty of ducks for the hunters—more ducks, it appears, than have been seen for some years.

SUCCESSFUL RAFFLE

Dear Sir—May we express sincere appreciation of the Killam District Board of Trade for the excellent support given in our recently-concluded car raffle. The winner of the 1951 Chevrolet sedan was Miss Mary Miller, of Castor, Alta. Proceeds of the raffle were sufficient to completely pay off the mortgage on the Killam Memorial Arena.

THE MAN WHO KNOWS

Dear Sir—Speaking of Edmonton traffic problems, why aren't the real experts consulted? I'm talking about the alert taxi drivers, who know more about the streets of Edmonton than all the engineers in the country. They are pretty clean, intelligent citizens. Let's ask them.

Dear Sir—After looking at a picture of Elizabeth Taylor in a recent issue of your paper I wonder if Miss Taylor knows there's a word called modesty. Why, Elsie the cow has more modesty than some of these movie stars.

HEADLESS DUCKLING

Dear Sir—It was a very touching story T. W. Pue told in the "Case of the Headless Duckling." It was well told, too, but, in my opinion, erred in duck procedure to some extent. In the first place ducks often nest far from water, in a stubble field, or in a dense growth of timber where no water is in evidence for half a mile or so. Moreover, although the eggs are laid one a day the young hatch within a few hours of one another, and follow their mother Indian style—unless disturbed—to her choice of swimming hole.

I hope the cat in the piece was no more observant than the driver of the Morris Minor, or she may have been able to relate a story of searching out the remaining nine or ten of the hatch from their hiding places under a leaf or other shelter. But the moral of the story was worthy.

NEWSPRINT MONOPOLY

Dear Sir—I note with much disgust that Edmonton is under a monopoly newsprint shortage. We give our newsprint to the Yanks so they can flood us with lush-slush sex magazines, crime comics, and inch-thick papers full of ads. Meanwhile, genuine newsprint requirements here are ignored. There is something rotten in Canada, for the benefit of the Yanks.

High-Speed Cameras Set Up To Track Meteors Across Sky In Northern Alberta

Two high-speed swivel cameras, designed to track flashing meteors across the sky soon will start operating in northern Alberta.

At Meanook and Newbrook, Alta., stellar physicists of the Dominion observatory staff from Ottawa will begin shooting pictures of "shooting stars."

Meanook is 65 miles north, and Newbrook 50 miles northeast of Edmonton.

The men in charge of the picture taking project are Peter Millman and George Brealey, both of the observatory in Ottawa. They will synchronize the two cameras from their posts 25 miles apart to shoot pictures of the same meteors at the same time.

HEAVY CAMERAS

The eight-inch curved films will be rushed to the Massachusetts Institute of technology at Boston for development and evaluation. Similar films, taken by the same type of new stratosphere cameras near Las Cruces, N.M. also will be developed at MIT.

The cameras, weighing 5,000 pounds, are rated as the world's fastest. They will sweep the sky in 52-degree strokes and photograph meteors no bigger than a man's fist that bombard the stratosphere 70 miles above the earth.

By tracking meteors with two cameras from different bases simultaneously, scientists of the U.S. Navy, Harvard University MIT and the Dominion Observatory will be able to gather new data on such things as the density and moisture content of the outer air.

The information will go a long way toward solving the problems of high altitude guided missiles. The plans for the special photographic study of meteors got underway in 1945, when the German V2 bombs brought home the importance of the upper atmosphere in any future war.

C. S. Beals, astronomer at the Dominion observatory, and Millman, helped outline the specifications of the new cameras.

The total cost of each camera, built in a Connecticut plant and recently pictured in a national magazine, was $35,000.

Gregarious animals are those living in herds or flocks.

JASPER PARK FILMED

JASPER PARK — More than one mile of sixteen millimeter motion picture film was exposed in and around Jasper Park Lodge in the Canadian Rockies by the 197 members of the Sam Campbell Canadian Rockies—Alaska Tour party from the mid-western United States during their recent stay in Jasper National Park.

More than 100 of the Jasper visitors had 16 mm motion picture cameras; the majority of the remainder had still cameras although many of the movie enthusiasts had both.

Rural Electrification Costs $1,116,370

Final cost construction figures of 30 Alberta rural electrification associations whose costs have been checked by the Alberta Power Commission were released today by Hon. Dr. J. L. Robinson, Alberta Minister of Industries and Labor.

Total membership in the 30 associations was 1,428 individual farms. In practically every case, the actual cost was less than the estimated cost of construction, and members of the association received a rebate. Total cost for the 30 associations was $1,116,370 and the rebate was $152,000 or an average of slightly more than $100 per member. In some cases the rebate was more than $200. Average cost per member was $831.

Eastern MP Impressed With Rapid Growth of Alberta

A "down Easterner" Member of Parliament who recently visited Alberta was impressed with the number of people from his home province residing here, and with the rapid growth of Alberta.

Dr. Donald Smith, Liberal MP for Queens-Shelburne, Nova Scotia, returned to the east this week after visiting Alberta and the Northwest Territories.

He was shown around Alberta by Jack Welbourne, Liberal MP for Jasper-Edson.

TOURS NORTH

Dr. Smith was a member of the party which recently toured the north with Hon. R. H. Winters, federal resources minister.

Dr. Smith made no effort to conceal how much he liked Alberta. He mentioned that his uncle settled in the Red Deer area some years ago, and quipped that he had "at last caught up to the western migration."

The Easterner saw the beauties of Jasper National Park and witnessed oil field operations in the Achuson discovery area west of Stony Plain.

In Edmonton Dr. Smith admitted amazement at the industrial growth of Alberta.

Increased Travel In National Parks

Heavy flow of visitors is indicated at national parks in Alberta and other provinces this year, according to information received at offices of the Alberta Motor Association.

Indicating the increased volume, federal park officials have stated that up to the end of June, some western parks showed a 15 per cent increase in registrations.

CANADA TOLD FOOD SHORTAGES DUE TO BIG POPULATION INCREASES

WINNIPEG, Man.—(BUP)—Food shortages in many countries are the result of greater increase in human population over livestock population and drought, according to Dr. G. Bohstedt of the University of Wisconsin.

Bohstedt told the annual meeting of the Canadian Food Manufacturers' Association that those countries were looking to North America for supplies of basic foods. He mentioned specifically meat, milk, eggs.

"Because it takes feed to produce these commodities, close co-operation between livestock producers and the food industry is required," Bohstedt said.

"The feed available must be made to produce the maximum amount of animal products and every animal must be managed and fed for the greatest economy and output."

Survey Crew Explores Famed Nahanni Valley

A Canadian army team is heading into the notorious "Headless Valley" country, north of Edmonton, for the second time after debunking rumors it was inhabited by headless hunting prehistoric monsters.

Warrant Officer L. G. McAdam of the Canadian army, who spent 14 weeks in the valley and kept his head, is returning to the far north on another army survey trip.

The valley is just inside the NWT, near the Yukon-Alberta borders.

McAdam, a veteran of the army's survey establishment here, is living proof that the valley of the South Nahanni river is not the terror-filled place the Indians and prospectors of the Northwest Territories say it is.

NO MONSTERS

During 14 weeks in the eerie valley which runs southwest into the MacKenzie river basin, McAdam and his partners didn't see a single headless body or prehistoric monster.

"The only bad moments I had were when I cut my foot with an axe and when a pack horse stepped into quicksand," he said.

He admitted, however, that he and his four companions entered the notorious valley with some foreboding. They had heard the chilling tales of the Indians and prospectors.

Since 1905, three and possibly four men have been murdered in the valley. Twelve others, including a woman, have become lost in the valley and no trace of them found. Indians refuse to enter the area. They say it is inhabited by prehistoric monsters and evil spirits.

McAdam and his two army survey assistants, Cpl. John Fladhammer and Spr. Tom Howard, both of Ottawa, flew to a nameless lake in the valley and were met by two white guides.

All the rumors about the place can be explained away, however, the warrant officer surveyor said.

The murders were committed by robbers and gold was the motive each time. The Indians idea that the valley is populated by monsters and headless people comes from the fact that many large bones of prehistoric animals can be found in the area. The animals are dead, McAdam said. Just the bones remain.

According to RCMP records two prospectors, William and Frank McLeod, were murdered in the South Nahanni valley in 1905, apparently after discovering a rich gold mine.

A Martin Jorgensen was found murdered there in 1917 and police list 13 persons who have never returned from trips into the valley. Of these at least one is believed to have been killed.

"Sure, the headless bodies of the murdered McLeod brothers were discovered three years ago," McAdam said. "But no one beheaded them. Animals carted the heads away after decomposition set in, that's all."

Part of the Indian dread of the place comes from the fact that an epidemic of virulent meningitis once wiped out an Indian village near the river. The reports that the McLeod's were beheaded lends credence to the Indian rumor that head-hunters live in the valley.

It's a lot of bunk," McAdam said. "There's nothing fearful, dreadful or particularly shocking about the place. We still have our heads."

The most distant objects which can be observed with the 200-inch Hale telescope at Mt. Palomar, Calif., are so far away that their light (with a speed of 186,000 miles per second) takes about a billion years to reach the earth.

Gypsy Promises Good Luck In Exchange for $50 Bill

Some Edmonton gypsies have a lucrative way of making a living—that is, if you believe they can bring you "good luck" for a $50 bill.

Two Edmonton Sun reporters who visited several Gypsy palmists this week learned some things about Gypsies that may have been puzzling a lot of Edmontonians.

For a fee of $1 per hand, each gave the reporters an almost identical reading.

They told them they would not be rich, but not poor, that they had had bad luck but that their luck would get better, that they would live to an old age, varying from 75 to 95, that they would get married next year (both are already married), and that they didn't talk about people behind their back, but told them things they didn't like to their face.

In addition, they were told that they would soon make a "move", that they didn't like several girls who were "chasing" them, and that they were honest and liked to do good turns for others.

To top it all off, one promised that she would bring the reporter "good luck" if he would pay her $50 to burn candles and incense. She added that she was a "spiritual" woman, and would look him up in the "black book" for the fee.

She said, however, that she could only do all this if he believed in God.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Mother Neglects Children In Favor Of Housework

DEAR LOUISA:—I have three small children and do all of my housework. I have always been a good housekeeper but I am afraid that I haven't done such a good job with the children as they cry a great deal and fight each other.

They have a good yard to play in and I put them out each day when the weather is good. I have one room for them when it is cold and rainy. I shut them up in there because I find I can get things done so much better without having them under my feet.

I am worried because they do not seem to have good dispositions. What do you think is wrong with them?
B. L. L.

Answer:
You ask me what I think is wrong and my answer is "their Mother." From your letter, I judge that you think that keeping a house in apple-pie order is more important than giving your children care and love.

Your children need personal care at this time. They need some one near who will answer their questions and who will settle little differences between them before they develop into fights. They need to feel that they have someone near to whom they may bring their little problems and to know that someone loves them dearly.

How can they feel these things if they are shut away from you all day and just brought in to be fed and put to bed?

Let a little dust gather while you read to them or teach them how to play with simple toys—building blocks, etc. Allot some regular time each day to each child, even though their sun-suits go unironed or the windows need washing. The years pass in a hurry and the windows will be there after the children grow up.

Personal care and attention for children in their formative years pay big dividends later on.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa: I have been going with a boy for about a year but we are not engaged.

He is thinking of giving me a housecoat I admired while we were window shopping one evening.

My mother does not think this is a suitable present so I said I would write and ask what you thought about it.
BETSY.

Answer:
I should definitely ask him to give me something else, as a gift of that kind is not considered good taste.
LOUISA.

CERTAINLY... Sir!

REGISTRATION OF ALBERTANS FOR NEW OLD AGE PENSIONS BEGINS

Registration of an estimated 25,000 Albertans entitled to the new $40 monthly federal old-age security pensions next year is now underway.

H. C. Gillman, who has been appointed regional director of old age security, said registration forms for the new pensions are available at post offices throughout Alberta.

Chief facts to remember about the registration are:

Everyone of 69½ not now getting pensions should register.

Those already on old-age pensions need not register. They will be transferred automatically to the new pension rolls. There are 18,000 persons in this group in Alberta.

It is essential that those over 69 not now receiving pensions to register immediately in order that arrangements can be completed in time for cheques to be sent out next January.

Addition of 25,000 pensioners to the 18,000 now receiving pensions will boost to 43,000 the total now on federal lists.

Applicants must prove their age to benefit from the new legislation, and birth or baptismal certificates, church, marriage records or passports are best evidence.

Mr. Gillman explained the 70-and-over pensions with which he is concerned have nothing to do with the proposed new pensions for the 65-69 group, details of which are now being worked out at Ottawa.

The LIGHTER SIDE

Just Forgotten

The wife had been put on a budget plan. At the end of each month she and her husband would go over the accounts together. Every once in a while he would find an item, "H.O.K. $5" and a little farther on, "H.O.K. $3."

Finally, he asked: My "dear, what is this—'H.O.K.'?" "Heaven only knows," she replied.

To Make Sure

He was rather small and had been used to sleeping with a night-light in his room, but his parents had decided that he must start sleeping in the dark. When his mother put out the light, he asked, plaintively:

"Must I sleep in the dark tonight, Mummy?"

"Yes, darling," was the reply, "you are getting to be a big boy now."

"Well, may I say my prayers over again—more carefully?"

Lady Novelist

Most of the time he was proud of his wife's ability to turn out an endless stream of best-selling romances; but when he'd wake up in the middle of the night and find her still pounding her typewriter his patience would occasionally wear a bit thin. He turned on the bedside light early one morning, saw the time: 3 a.m. "Jean!" he yelled, "come to bed!"

"Can't darling," she called back. "I've got my heroine out with a wolf, and I've got to get her safely home."

"How old is she?"

"Oh, 25 or so."

"She's old enough to figure it out for herself! Come to bed."

Antique

"My husband has the strangest hobby," said Mrs. Smith to a friend, "and I never knew anything about it until yesterday, I found in his desk a queer looking ticket inscribed Mudhorse 10 to 1. I asked him what it was and he told me it was a relic of a lost race. Isn't it interesting?"

Oil Pipe Line To Coast Planned

Ten companies have joined the battle to build an oil pipe line from Edmonton to Vancouver, as the fight for an outlet for Alberta oil to the Pacific Coast grows more intense daily.

Crews are surveying routes suitable for a pipe line, according to officials of various companies who passed through Edmonton this week.

Final decision on the oil export is up to the Board of Transport Commissioners, who will meet in Ottawa September 24.

Big three in the battle to receive permission to build a line are Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Co.; Independent Pipe Line Co.; and Westcoast Transmission.

The companies are backed by various oil firms and Canadian and American capital.

Favored route of the line would run from Edmonton close to the CNR right-of-way past Edson and through the Yellowhead Pass. It would then continue down to Kamloops. From there it would leave the CN and head on its own directly for Chilliwack and along the south side of the Fraser river to Vancouver.

Trans-Mountain is backed by the huge Bechtel Corporation, an American firm which has built pipe lines all over the world.
